

Master's Degree Programme in Psychology (PG in Psychology)

Programme Objectives:

- To cultivate in students a scientific perspective in understanding of the complexities of human behaviour and experiences at individual and group levels.
- To create an up-to-date knowledge base in students about basic psychological concepts, methods, and tools prevalent in the discipline.
- To promote the acquisition of skills that is basic to understanding and applying the knowledge of Psychology in real life.
- To make the students aware of how they think, and become self-reliant to think while reflecting on the subject matter.
- To empower the students to become responsible researchers and professionals in future.

Programme Learning Outcomes

The learning outcomes that a student will be able to demonstrate on completion of the Programme include Academic, Behavioural and Social competencies:

Academic:

- Disciplinary knowledge of methods, theories and approaches and appreciation of different perspectives
- Ability to use skills in specific areas related to chosen specialization
- Basic professional skills such as data analysis, computer literacy, psychological testing, observation, technological application to conceptual growth etc
- Fluency in articulation of ideas; scientific writing and authentic reporting; effective presentation skills.

Behavioural:

- Spirit of scientific enquiry; Original thinking & curiosity; Self-development and self-regulation
- Developing positive attributes such as empathy, compassion, social participation, and accountability.
- Ability to work both independently and in group and dealing effectively with clients and stakeholders, learning the art of negotiation.
- Communication and effective interaction with others, listening, speaking etc

Social:

- Developing cultural and historical sensibility- particularly indigenous traditions, socio-cultural context and diversity.
- Gender sensitization including gender respect, respect for one's own gender, dealing with gender confusion and gender identity issues.
- Ethical, social and ecological responsibility including acknowledging the dignity and presence of others, awareness of social order, learning of values and social concern.
- Commitment to health and wellbeing at different levels (e.g. individual, organization, community, society).

M.Phil Programme

Programme Objectives

- To cultivate in students a scientific perspective in understanding of the complexities of human behaviour and experiences at individual and group levels.
- To make the students aware of how they think, and become self-reliant to think while reflecting on the subject matter.
- To empower the students to become responsible researchers and professionals in future.

Programme Learning Outcomes

The learning outcomes that a student will be able to demonstrate on completion of the Programme include Academic, Behavioural and Social competencies:

Academic:

- Disciplinary knowledge of methods, theories and approaches and appreciation of different perspectives
- Ability to use skills in specific areas related to chosen specialization
- Basic professional skills such as data analysis, computer literacy, psychological testing, observation, technological application to conceptual growth etc
- Fluency in articulation of ideas; scientific writing and authentic reporting; effective presentation skills.

Behavioural:

- Spirit of scientific enquiry; Original thinking & curiosity; Self-development and self-regulation
- Developing positive attributes such as empathy, compassion, social participation, and accountability.
- Ability to work both independently and in group and dealing effectively with clients and stakeholders, learning the art of negotiation.
- Communication and effective interaction with others, listening, speaking etc

Social:

- Developing cultural and historical sensibility- particularly indigenous traditions, socio-cultural context and diversity.
- Gender sensitization including gender respect, respect for one's own gender, dealing with gender confusion and gender identity issues.
- Ethical, social and ecological responsibility including acknowledging the dignity and presence of others, awareness of social order, learning of values and social concern.
- Commitment to health and wellbeing at different levels (e.g. individual, organization, community, society).

PhD Coursework

Programme Objectives:

- To prepare and enable the students to consolidate the prerequisites of conducting a Doctoral research
- To enable students to appreciate the philosophical, ethical and practical underpinnings of research.
- To enable students to critically analyze the principles and paradigms prevalent in the discipline.

Programme Outcomes:

- Students will be equipped to carry out research pertaining to the philosophy of the discipline.
- They will be able to reach the level of abstraction needed to conduct high quality research.