Capacity building programme for research scholar: Department of A & A Economics

Value added course (in blended mode)

On

BIOANALYTICAL TECHNIQUES FOR INTERDISCIPLINARY RESEARCH

15th -27th December, 2021

Course Description:

This course is introduced to enhance the competence of Master students (Life Sciences / Physical Sciences / Chemical Sciences) for cross disciplinary research. It is designed with a view on basic bioanalytical tools and techniques and their important applications in various fields of research, including Industrial applications.

Course objectives:

1. The primary objectives of this course are to develop the skills and competence and to understand the principles and applications of bioanalytical techniques.
2. Students will be exposed to various bioanalytical techniques and their applications in identification, isolation and characterization of different biomolecules and biomaterials.
3. To provide scientific understanding of analytical techniques and detail interpretation of results.

Learning Outcomes:

On successful completion of this value added course a student will be able to:

- Know the principle and application of various bioanalytical equipments.
- Acquire knowledge for designing a project for research and to execute it.

Broad outline of the course:

Module-I: Spectroscopic methods

Module-II: Microscopic Techniques and biomaterial characterization

Module-III: Electrophoresis and Chromatography Techniques

Module-IV: Genomic, proteomics and Bioinformatics

Module-V: Isolation, Purification and characterization of Biological Macromolecules

Organized by:

Department of Biotechnology, Utkal University, Bhubaneswar, India-751004

Duration: 15th-27th December, 2021

Time: 4.00PM -7.00PM

Offline registration mandatory

Nominal Registration Fees Rs.100/- (Rupees One hundred only per students)

For registration and information please contact:

Dr. Jyotsnarani Pradhan, Assistant Professor, Department of Biotechnology, Utkal University, Bhubaneswar-751004, Phone. No. 9853411916

Components of a Mass Spectrometer....

❖ Every mass spectrometer consists of three major components:

- ❑ Ionization Source: For producing gaseous ions from the substance studied.
- ❑ Mass Analyzer: For resolving the ions into their characteristic components according to their mass-to-charge ratio.
- ❑ Ion Detection System: For detecting the ions and recording the abundance of each of the resolved ionic species.

Reinvigorating the Social Science Studies and Research: Exploring Career Options for Young Scholars

Concept Note

India being one of the youngest nations in the world with more than 54% of its total population below the age of 25 years necessitates that the youth in the country are equipped with the skills and knowledge to enter the workforce through education and training. However, as per the Ministry of Human Resource Development (MHRD) report of 2016 pertaining to the National Policy on Education, 2016, a large proportion of the products of the education system are found to lack employable skills. Against this backdrop it may be realized that the major challenge before the social science fraternity today is how to make knowledge accrued from social sciences work? In an authoritative article titled ‘Transformative Cornerstones of Social Science Research for Global Change’ HeideHackmann, the Executive Director of International Social Science Council (ISSC) writes: “Rapidly changing global realities drive the fast-growing demand for social science knowledge that works to inform effective and urgent responses to some of the most defining challenges of our times”. In other words, there is a need for the new age social science researchers to mobilise the international social science community around a knowledge agenda that will contribute to societies developing more effective, equitable, sustainable responses to some of the major challenges confronting the state and the international system as a whole.

In the Indian context, it may be rightly maintained that despite Indian distinctiveness, one ‘uniformity’ that can be seen across researches in social sciences and more specifically in political science is, what AchinVanaik has termed in one of his writings in 2013, as ‘the search for an Indian distinctiveness’. This necessitates a search for theoretical and conceptual breaks and innovations to produce a theory which is distinctively Indian. Further, the proposed Policy on National Education 2016, linked to Make in India through skill India also requires creation and propagation of valid knowledge that is not alienated from productive work and its social ethos. Thereby, an understanding of the renewed thrust areas in social science research and practice can enable the students and research scholars to understand and analyze how and what kind of studies and explorations need to be taken up that would eventually enhance their knowledge and employability in the long run.

Workshop
on Developing English Communication Skills

Workshop on “Developing English Communication Skills”

Proposal

The Department of English proposes to organize a one-day workshop on “Developing English Communication Skills” on 11 March 2017. As is well known, soft skills is increasingly becoming important in today’s world. There is an increased traffic between the academia and industry/business thanks to technology having made possible greater integration between the two. Globalization has given rise to a knowledge economy which is breaking down the old division between production and consumption. Information, communication, expression are the binding forces of a dynamic knowledge-driven globalized world. English as the global language naturally carries a heavy burden in this context.

Interestingly enough, English, though a soft skill, has tended to be perceived as a hard skill in the way it has been taught in schools, colleges and universities with a heavy emphasis on formal rules and theories. This has resulted in an ironic situation where a student is good on theory of collocation and has a large vocabulary but cannot carry on a conversation in English. In English medium schools the gap between competence and performance tends to be narrow, while in non-English medium schools it tends to be wide. But often in English medium schools glibness is mistaken for fluency and accuracy. The solution that the market offers in the form of the spoken English teaching shops or crash courses is not the answer either. Based on the philosophy of the gift of the gab, they encourage a superficial fluency.

It follows, therefore, that English communication skills have to be taught in a way which will focus on the harmonization of theory and practice. For example, the right kind of training will emphasize the serviceable and usable vocabulary of a student even as it tries to increase its range. It will also provide exposure to the variety of registers that English communication at various levels and situations requires.

The one-day workshop, planned by the English department, will seek to give the trainees the know-how of English communication supplemented by a user-oriented ‘how to’ part. It will organize sessions on conversation and verbal etiquette, oral presentation skills in English, thinking on one's feet as in an interview and group discussion techniques. Resource persons known for their interest in and expertise in these areas will be conducting the different workshop sessions.

The programme is given below.

Date: 18th January 2020

To,

The Placement Officer,
Utkal University, Bhubaneswar.

Sub: Career Counseling for Japanese Employment Seminar. (MCA ,MBA& IT Department).

Dear Sir,

Greetings of the day!

It's immense pleasure of "Rotary Club of Cuttack Greater" to extend our expertise to grab jobs in Japan in association with "Sochi international Academy", Japan. As we know that there is heavy manpower crises in Japan and would be more in future so it is a golden opportunities for the students of your university Bhubaneswar, Odisha to avail scope for the same. Japan has it's own cultural values and that has to be maintain by every employee working in Japan. Once you know their cultural values it becomes easy to get a job in Japan and our associate from Japan will help your students to understand the tips easily in the seminar of one hour on 21st January 2020 (Second half) timing which will suit you.

Japanese Corporate visiting campuses for recruitment test candidates on their different kinds of expertise such as Personal Interview, Cultural and Technical. Technical expertise can be judged through putting academic questions during the interview sessions. In the other hand personality and cultural assessment is done through personal interviews as per the requirement of the Japanese company.

As the students approach at the end of their courses, different types of technical acumen would have been mastered by the institution. Now the need of the day is to hone their personality. This seminar is design to navigate the hurdles of the various personality assessments by Japanese companies.

The Seminar will help the students to:

i: Prepare to crack the tests of the visiting Japanese companies.

ii: Build overall understanding of the professional atmosphere in Japan.

iii: Develop the necessary skill sets and gain the required knowledge which will help them in their professional life in Japan.

iv: It works on personality to develop communication and skills to get ready to face any interview of Japanese company.

SOCHI International Academy Seminar is a unique designed seminar module for PG students. This seminar aims to train and make them understand the various Japanese selection process and employment opportunities in Japan. The Seminar not only trains your students to crack campus but off campus also, and grabs those job opportunities from top notch companies from Japan.

YOGA SEMINAR REPORT

P.G. Department of Philosophy, Utkal University has organized five lectures series of national webinar in commemoration of International Yoga Day – 2021. These programmes were organized in both online and offline modes from 21st June 2021 to 29th September, 2021. The details of the lectures series are mentioned herewith for your kind reference.

LECTURE – 1 (JUNE 21, 2021)

1st lecture series of national webinar in commemoration of International Yoga Day on "Yoga for Holistic Health" was organized by Department of Philosophy, Utkal University, Bhubaneswar, sponsored by Indian Council of Philosophical Research (ICPR), New Delhi on 21st June, 2021 at 11 am via Google Meet. Dr. Prativa Shree Swain, Assistant Professor, Department of Yogic Science, Sri Sri University was the Speaker.

Welcome address was presented by Prof Basant Kumar Mallik, Chairman P.G Council and HOD of Department of Philosophy, Utkal University Bhubaneswar.

Dr. Manoranjan Mallick, Coordinator, Department of Philosophy, Utkal University, Bhubaneswar introduced the guest. Dr. Prativa Shree described different types of asanas and the benefits of doing such asanas. She also described the science behind asanas and the practical relevance of asanas. She also discussed the proper way of performing asanas. This was followed by a question answer session. Vote of Thanks was offered by Dr. Pragyanparamita Mohapatra, Assistant Professor, Department of Philosophy, Utkal University, Bhubaneswar.

LECTURE – 2 (AUGUST 20, 2021)

2nd lecture series of national webinar in commemoration of International Yoga Day on "Yoga and Vision" was organised by Department of Philosophy, Utkal University, sponsored by The Indian Council of Philosophical Research (ICPR), New Delhi on 20th August, 2021 at 11 am via Google Meet app. Professor Gopal Krishna Dash, Former Professor of P.G. Department of Sanskrit, Utkal University was the speaker of the session. Welcome address was presented by Dr. Manoranjan Mallick, Coordinator, Department of Philosophy, Utkal University. Dr. Sudhakarjally, Assistant Professor, Department of Philosophy, Utkal University introduced the guest. Professor Gopal Krishna Dash emphasized on the technicalities of the Yoga system. He said that Vedas is the highest knowledge and has been observing by seers. He also talked about Patanjali Yoga. Yoga purifies the Chitta. Professor Dash discussed the intellectual, spiritual and practical aspects of Yoga. In short he stated that Yoga is holistic in nature and the amalgamation of all the three aspects. He cited practical examples like the relationship between position of the planets, moon, tides, amawasya, purnima and the effect of all on a human being. Another important point mentioned by Professor Dash is that Vedanta is the essence and not the end of Vedas. He stated that Self can attain Kaivalya. He also told that one should pronounce words like Yoga in the original manner and not mispronounce it. The talk was followed by a question answer session in which participants asked questions. Dr. PragyanParamita Mohapatra, Seminar Advisor and Assistant Professor, Utkal University provided technical support. Dr. Alakananda Parida, Assistant Professor, Utkal University, Dr. Kavita Das, Assistant Professor, Utkal University and Professor Basantkumar Dash, Visiting Professor, Utkal University, joined and graced the webinar. Kashmira Murmu, Mphil Research Scholar of Utkal University proposed the formal vote of thanks.

LECTURE –3 (AUGUST 20, 2021)

3rd lecture series of national webinar in commemoration of International Yoga Day on "Yoga: Traditions, Texts and Acharyas" was organized by Department of Philosophy, Utkal University, sponsored by Indian Council of Philosophical Research (ICPR), New Delhi on 21st August 2021 at 3.30 pm via Google Meet app. Professor Sushim Dubey from Department of Philosophy, Nava Nalanda Mahavihar, Nalanda, Bihar was the Chief Speaker of the webinar. The welcome address was presented by Dr. Manoranjan Mallick, Coordinator, Department of Philosophy, Utkal University. Dr. Alakananda Parida, Assistant Professor, Department of Philosophy, Utkal University introduced the speaker. Professor Sushim Dubey highlighted the value and essence of Yoga by giving an in depth detail of the seers of Indian Philosophy such as Patanjali. He also stated the traditions and narrated the emergence and flow of Yoga throughout history. He also stated that despite the lack of contemporary writing accessories, manuscripts were written by the seers which can be found in museums and archaeological centres. Further, foreign visitors such as Hiuen Tsang and FaHien had mentioned the tradition and importance of Yoga in their travelogue. A lot of things have been known through their works also. These are the ways through which the manuscripts and knowledge of the seers have been preserved throughout the Mughal period and British period. The talk was followed by a question answer session. Dr. Sudhakar Jally, Assistant professor at Utkal University, Dr. Pragyan Paramita Mohapatra, Assistant Professor at Utkal University, Dr. Kabita Das, Assistant Professor at Utkal University and Dr. Basant Dash, Visiting Professor at Utkal University joined the webinar along with dignitaries, scholars and students. Kashmira Murmu, M. Phil research scholar of Utkal University moderated the session. Formal vote of thanks was proposed by Debi Prasad Dash, M.A. 1st year student of Dept. of Philosophy, Utkal University.

LECTURE –4 (AUGUST 21, 2021)

4th lecture series of national webinar in commemoration of International Yoga Day on “Stress management through Yoga” was organized by Department of Philosophy, Utkal University, sponsored by The Indian Council of Philosophical Research (ICPR), New Delhi on 21st August, 2021 at 11 am via Google Meet app. Dr. Dinesh Prasad Swain, Faculty Champion of Department of Yogic Science, Sri Sri University, Cuttack was the Speaker. Welcome address was presented by Dr. Manoranjan Mallick, Coordinator, Department of Philosophy, Utkal University. Dr. Kabita Das, Assistant Professor, Department of Philosophy, Utkal University introduced the Speaker. Dr. Dinesh Prasad Swain started the session with a practical meditation in which all the audiences participated. He narrated nuances of the practical side of Yoga. He also described the science behind Yoga. He stated that Yoga does not cure the illness but eradicates the root of the illness. He also stated that Pranayama and meditation are the ways through which one can remain stress free. He stated that yoga helps in maintaining the oxygen level of human beings and that normally human beings use only 1/10th of the required oxygen intake. His talk was unique as he engaged the audience in a practical session of Pranayama and meditation and also asked the feedback. He stated that even in Gita, stress and mental health has been emphasized, especially when Arjuna faces the dilemma of fighting in war against his kins or turning back. Yoga is the answer to such issues. He also emphasized the fact that Yoga does not refer to asanas. Asanas are just a part of yoga. Yoga in itself consists a lot more steps. The talk was followed by a question answer session in which participants asked questions. Dr. PragyanParamitaMohapatra, Seminar Advisor and Assistant Professor, Utkal University provided technical support. Dr. SudhkarJally, Assistant Professor, Utkal University, Dr. AlakanandaParida, Assistant Professor, Utkal University and Dr. Basant Das, Visiting Professor, Utkal University participated and graced the talk. KashmiraMurmu, Mphil Research Scholar, Utkal University moderated the session. The formal vote of thanks was offered by SmitimayeeBasantia, PhD scholar of Dept. of Philosophy, Utkal University.

LECTURE – 5 (SEPTEMBER 29, 2021)

5th lecture series of national webinar in commemoration of International Yoga Day was held on 29th September, 2021 by Department of Philosophy, Utkal University, Bhubaneswar sponsored by the Indian Council of Philosophical Research (ICPR), New Delhi at Conference Hall, Department of Philosophy, Utkal University, Bhubaneswar at 4 pm. The topic of the seminar was "Yoga for Personality Development ". ShriR Ravinagesh Naidu, state organizer, Vivekananda Kendra Kanyakumari, Odisha was the Chief Speaker along with ShriAjitRana from Vivekananda Kendra Kanyakumari, Odisha. It was sponsored by Indian Council of Philosophical Research (ICPR) New Delhi.

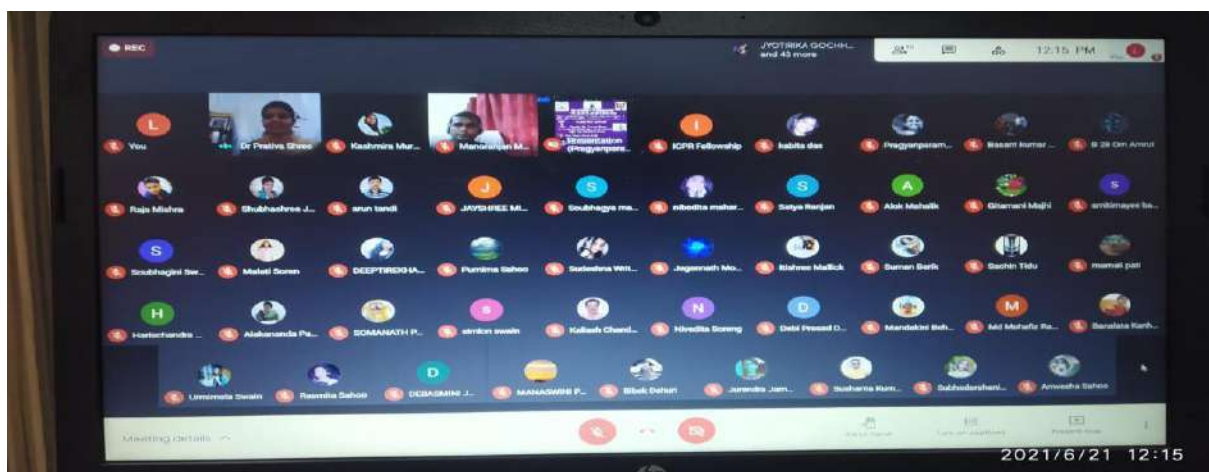

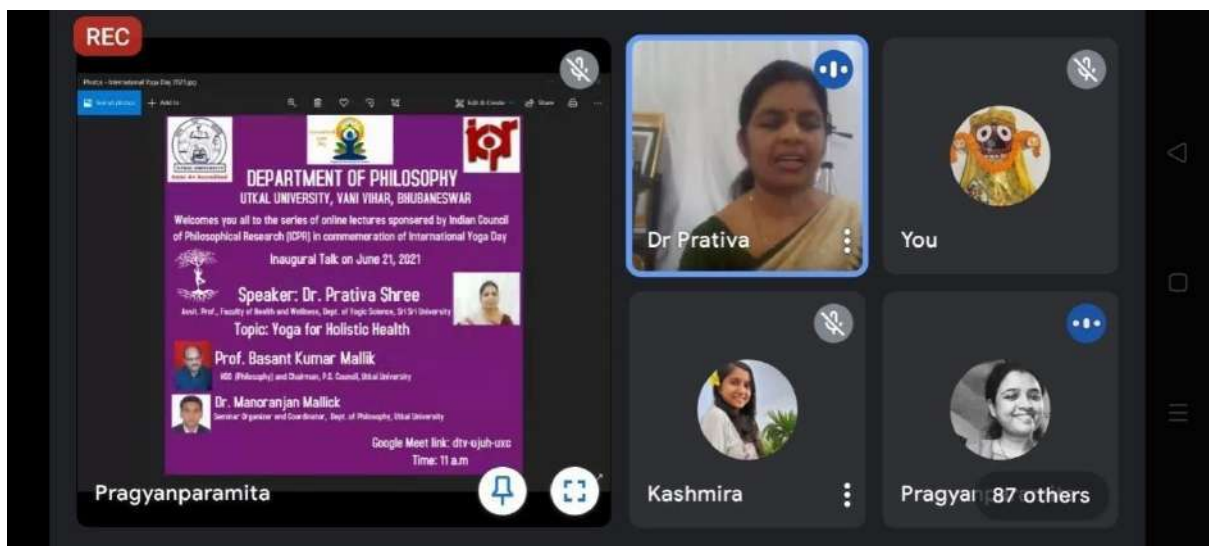

Then Shri R Ravinagesh Naidu spoke on the practical aspect of Yoga, its utility, importance of break, defocusing and personality development. He spoke about the 4 margas which were put forth by Swami Vivekananda i.e. Karma Yoga, Bhakti Yoga, Raj Yoga and Jnana Yoga. He stated that a balanced mixture of Karma Yoga, Bhakti Yoga, Raj Yoga and Jnana Yoga can lead to development of personality. The entire session was interactive in nature. Vote of Thanks was proposed by SubhashreeBiswal, Mphil scholar, Department of Philosophy, Utkal University, Bhubaneswar.

This talk was the 5th and last lecture series of national webinar in commemoration of International Yoga Day. This was the only seminar which was held in offline mode. The permission of holding the seminar in offline mode was granted by ICPR.

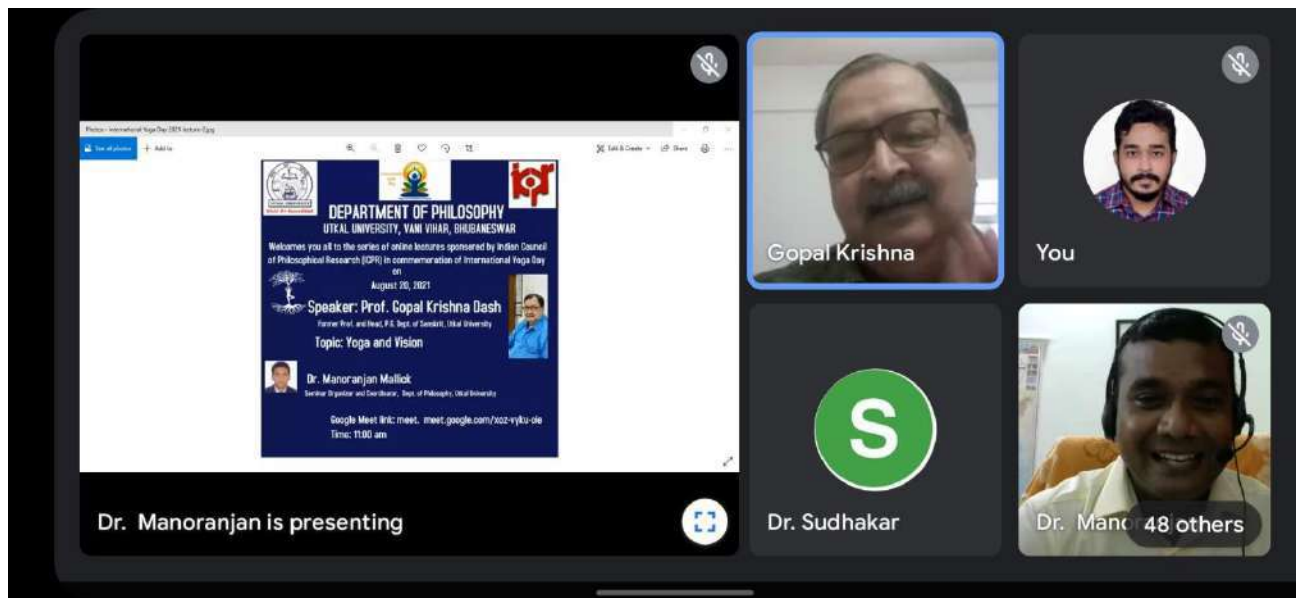

The guests were welcomed with flower bouquets and Dr. ManoranjanMallick, Coordinator, Department of Philosophy, Utkal University presented the welcome address and introduced the guests. He also presented a geist of the topic. The programme started with a practical session where ShriAjitRana chanted omkar, chanted mantras, discussed the importance of healthy mind and body. An interactive game was played to promote awareness and concentration. Students practiced Ardhashandrasana, Pranayama and other asanas related to breathing along with ShriAjitRana. It was followed by chanting Omkar 3 times. Again the interactive game was played and a higher rate of awareness and concentration was observed post the performance of asanas.
